MONROE POLICE OFFICERS GUILD

Political Contribution Withholding Authorization

No employer or other person may withhold a portion of a Washington State resident's earnings (or that of a nonresident whose primary place of work is in Washington) in order to make contributions to a political committee that must report to the Public Disclosure Commission or to a candidate for state or local office without written permission from that individual.

Completion of this form entitles the entity specified to make such a withholding. This authorization form remains in effect until revoked in writing by the employee.

I, _(first)_____ (middle initial)_____(last)____ _____ the Monroe Police Officers Guild to withhold $10.00 per month from my current membership dues in order to make contributions to the Monroe Police Officers Guild Political Action Committee for the purpose of making political contributions.
